

A NATION MOURNS.

OLIVER P. MORTON, A LEADER OF THE SENATE, IS DEAD.

Sketch of the Great Patriot's Life and Public Services—His Energy in War and Eloquence in Peace—His Labors in Behalf of Liberty and Human Rights, and Emphasis to Transcendentalism.

Indiana's war Governor has just succumbed to the paralysis which has been preying upon his vital forces and threatening his life for years. He puts off his material body and enters the sphere of the immortals at the prime age of fifty-four. Although still sixteen years short of the three-score-and-six of man's full allotment, few public men have labored harder or accomplished more in a lifetime than Mr. Morton.

In his death, a whole nation suffers, but, besides his immediate family, who will miss his uniform kindness and strong affections, the Union-loving people of the South of all colors, race and condition, the thousands of colored and all true patriots throughout the broad land will sincerely mourn his death as that of a trusted friend, a safe and prudent counselor, an exemplary statesman and an earnest and effective advocate. To public men, however, he was a leader, and to the people, a guide. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

BIRTH AND EARLY LIFE.
Oliver P. Morton was born in Wayne County, Ind., August 4, 1823. His parents died when he was quite young, and he was placed under the care of a grandfather and an uncle. He was educated at the common schools, and then at the University of Michigan. He was a member of the Union League, and was a strong advocate of the Union. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

IN 1856 HE WAS NOMINATED by the Republicans as their candidate for Governor of Indiana. He made a thorough and vigorous canvass of the State in company with his wife. He was elected Governor, and served two terms. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

GOVERNOR OF INDIANA.
Never before had a Governor of the State been inaugurated amid circumstances so difficult and trying. The election of Mr. Morton to the Governorship was a triumph for the Union. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

FOURTY THOUSAND MEN.
more than six times the number required, volunteered for the service. In three days three regiments, the quota of the State, were in readiness for service. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

TO CROSS THE OHIO
into Kentucky. This Louisville was saved from falling into the hands of the rebels and the fate of the Union was secured. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

in bringing about these results was universally acknowledged. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE REVEREND OF THE NATIONAL ARMS
had such a disconcerting effect upon the country that in most of the States the work of organizing regiments was suspended. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

GOV. MORTON'S POPULARITY
among the people of Indiana was such that in other States having elected the Governor of certain anti-slavery politicians, they gave currency to vague charges of corruption in the appointment of officers and the awarding of contracts. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

BEFORE THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR 1862
more than one hundred thousand men had been enrolled in the Union army. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THIS BILL WAS KNOWN
and only prevented from becoming a law by the withdrawal of the Republican members. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE HAD A LEGION IN EVERY SECTION OF THE STATE and he became most numerous in those places where the people were most loyal to the Union. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

reconstruction question. It was an off-hand speech, called out by a better attack of Senator Boothie upon the Republican party and its reconstruction policy. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE SPEECH WHICH HE MADE
was a masterpiece of oratory. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

A MASTERLY PRESENTATION of the subject, accurate in statement, unimpeachable in logic, forcible and convincing in argument. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

HE WAS PRACTICALLY THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY.
He dispatched numerous secret agents to watch the movements of Kentucky secessionists. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

SECOND DAY AT THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

More Speech-Making by the President and Cabinet—Mr. Evans Lost and Found—Return to Washington.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—The President breakfasted with Rev. Dr. J. L. Garrison, an old abolitionist, and then went to the fair grounds, where he was soon surrounded by a crowd of 30,000, and he was called upon for a speech. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

SECOND DAY AT THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

More Speech-Making by the President and Cabinet—Mr. Evans Lost and Found—Return to Washington.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—The President breakfasted with Rev. Dr. J. L. Garrison, an old abolitionist, and then went to the fair grounds, where he was soon surrounded by a crowd of 30,000, and he was called upon for a speech. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

SECOND DAY AT THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

More Speech-Making by the President and Cabinet—Mr. Evans Lost and Found—Return to Washington.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—The President breakfasted with Rev. Dr. J. L. Garrison, an old abolitionist, and then went to the fair grounds, where he was soon surrounded by a crowd of 30,000, and he was called upon for a speech. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.
The President's trip to the Agricultural Fair was a success. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles. He was a man of many parts, and his life was a life of many battles.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

DOINGS OF THE EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE BRANCHES.

Information Gathered at the Capital, in the Departments, and About Town by the Reporters of the National Republican.

The Capital Yesterday.
The opening session of the Senate lasted but fifteen minutes yesterday, and no particular business was transacted during that time. The anti-slavery speech of Senator Morton elicited a feeling and delicate tribute of respect in the argument of his desk as it was last session, with the result on which he was to lean when rising to address the Senate attached to it for the first time this session. A basket of white flowers placed on the desk made the vacant chair conspicuous, and served to remind every one of the great statesman who had just passed away. Some few resolutions and bills were presented, and the Senate went into executive session and confirmed a number of presidential nominations, the most prominent one being that of Gen. Le Duc to be Commissioner of the Fish.

THE SENATE.
In the House a number of bills were introduced and referred by unanimous consent, after which Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.

THE HOUSE.
The House opened its session at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Keiser moved to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered the postponement of his bill to report the committee on the Freedmen's Bureau. The order of the hour was consumed with roll call, ordered on motion made by opponents of the bill for that purpose. The indications are that unless Mr. Keiser can devise some means to get his bill out of the morning hour, it will not pass. Mr. Keiser's bill is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau. It is a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1877, relating to the Freedmen's Bureau.